I'd love to be able to sync Mac apps like Pages, Numbers, Keynote, etc and have them available offline. I always seem to have to re-install the apps when I upgrade to a new Mac. Is there something like this for Mac apps or is it just as easy as Dropbox and I'm just dumb? ===== jetti I am looking into something like this. I currently use dropbox for my documents and it works fairly well except for the major issue of having to resubmit documents that already got backed up. It would be great if you could just back up the whole mac directory.

Q: iPad 4 Screenshot View I have a textView in UIViewController. I need to take a screenshot of the textView. I tried using the following code: UIGraphicsBeginImageContext(cell.bounds.size); [cell.contentView.layer renderInContext:UIGraphicsGetCurrentContext()]; UIGraphicsEndImageContext(); UIImage *image = UIGraphicsGetImageFromCurrentImageContext(); But image is always completely black. Can anyone tell me what I'm doing wrong? A: The problem is that you're removing the context too soon. The coordinates of the original context will have been overwritten by the original drawing. Try this: UIGraphicsBeginImageContext(cell.bounds.size); [cell.contentView.layer renderInContext:UIGraphicsGetCurrentContext()]; [cell.contentView.layer renderInContext:UIGraphicsGetCurrentContext()]; UIImage *image = UIGraphicsGetImageFromCurrentImageContext(); UIGraphicsEndImageContext(); You don't need to use the last two calls twice, though. Your layer should be able to render itself multiple times. I can't seem to find anyone else with the same issue. and the posts that are out there are old and about text editors instead of managers 1cb139a0ed
